Invitation
for the second triMS.online conference

Current concepts in paediatric MS

Tuesday 11 June 2019 | 13:30–16:30 BST | 08:30–11:30 EDT | 14:30–17:30 CEST

Healthcare professionals and researchers working in MS are invited to attend the second of our live global virtual conferences on 11 June 2019 at 13:30 BST.

Join the second triMS.online conference for an exciting, high-quality scientific programme.

- The latest research and clinical insights on the theme Current concepts in paediatric MS
- A 'hot topic' debate on the motion 'Clinical trials in paediatric MS should be conducted for study drugs with established efficacy in adult MS'

Pioneered by Professor Gavin Giovannoni and led by a diverse scientific steering committee from five continents, the second triMS.online conference is a global event, enabling all MS specialists and researchers to learn, debate and contribute fresh ideas, without the time and expense of travelling.

What is triMS.online?

triMS.online replicates the conference experience, offering keynote presentations, short talks, sponsored symposia and the opportunity to participate in a 'hot topic' debate.

The triMS.online virtual, themed events offer delegates:

- access to high-quality research updates and materials – during the online event and afterwards
- space to discuss current trends and developments, and to debate controversial topics
- opportunities to network with colleagues, exchange opinions and learn more about MS.
